Revolted Republics.

By Associated Press.
St. LOUIS, Sept. 29.—A dispatch from the City of Mexico says: A revolution has been precipitated in the Republic of Guatemala which will unquestionably become general. A gentleman who left the city of Guatemala on the morning of the 16th inst., and who just reached this city on horseback from Acapulco, brings information of an outbreak that occurred in Guatemala City on the 15th inst., and was still in progress when he left. According to his story the people of that city were celebrating the anniversary of their national holiday. It appears that President Barillas had personally appointed the orators of the day. To this the masses took exceptions, and when the orators took the rostrum it was the signal for a storm of stones, which set them to flight. An exciting scene followed, and every known Liberal or Barillas partisan was driven from the plaza. After that the masses elected their own orators, and most violent and incendiary speeches followed.

The news of the riot spread rapidly, and soon Barillas threw a battalion of infantry into the large square for the purpose of dispersing the mob. They, with fixed bayonets, attempted to carry the plaza by assault, but were met with a shower of stones and bullets from revolvers. This action of the mob put them to flight, leaving many dead and wounded. Members of the mob shouted: "Let's storm the National Palace, kill Barillas and restore the Republican form of government. Guatemala should not be ruled by a dictator; plundering of the national treasury must cease."

Barillas then ordered the artillery into the plaza and the infantry and two cannon to guard his residence. When the guns were turned on the mob it dispersed. The people left the plaza, but fought in the side streets; in fact, they practically, during the night of the 15th, held full control of the city, though at intervals they were attacked by the infantry, who shot many of them.

It is thought this will cause a general revolt throughout the entire Republic of Guatemala and engender war in all the other Central American States. A strict censorship is maintained over all the press dispatches and mails are trifled with to prevent the leaking of any information concerning the actual condition of the country. It is stated that cable communication with Guatemala is interrupted.

Yesterday afternoon the Anglo-American received a special dispatch from Newton, on the line between Guatemala and Mexico. It brings information that Barillas is master of the situation, he having put down the revolt after three days of hard fighting. The revolt was precipitated by Montufar, son of one of the candidates for the Presidency, who was a strong partisan of Barillas in attempting to make a political speech on Independence Day. From that time until the night of the 18th there were street fights, sometimes the mob being in control of the city and at other times the army.

Salvador is moving troops to the southern frontier of Guatemala it is believed for the purpose of invading the latter country if the city of Guatemala revolt spreads to interior points. A private dispatch to a prominent merchant of this city from Newton says fully 500 lives were sacrificed in three days fighting in the city of Guatemala and that shooting is still going on. The dispatch also conveys the information that Barillas has declared himself dictator.

It is stated that Colonel Jobon killed General Sanchez and that a brother of General Sanchez, learning of his assassination shot at and killed Jobon. General Sanchez' brother was executed.

The city is under martial law and a reign of terror prevails, the inhabitants being afraid to leave their houses. The residence of President Barillas is guarded by soldiers, and the President does not stir about unless guarded by a large force of cavalry.

Democrats Oppose Silver Coinage.
By Associated Press.

WORCESTER (Mass.), Sept. 29.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order this morning by Chairman Corcoran of the State Central Committee. He made a short address. Committees were appointed and the convention permanently organized by the choice of Hon. A. Collins, of Boston, as chairman. The chairman, in the course of his speech, while speaking on the Republican party, said: "The present complaint is there has been too large a coinage of silver dollars, worth, as bullion or as merchandise, only 80 cents a piece; and the fear is that continued coinage of worse, a larger coinage of them, will dangerously inflate the currency and ultimately drive gold out of circulation. A year ago the treasury was coining at the rate of two million dollars per month, these 80 cent dollars, and the demand on the part of sound financiers was that the coinage should cease or that something should be done to insure a parity of the silver dollar with the gold one. But the administration had a debt due to the silver men of the far west, as well as to the iron and wool men, and to other monopolists. So the silver men demanded payment. The result was the Sherman act. The Republican resolution adopted recently here at the State Convention, coupled with the vote for their representatives in the last Congress, means the Republican position here is not hostile to any silver bill short of free coinage. This position is dangerous, in the view of conservative men and of the more frank and consistent declaration of Republicans west." In closing, the speaker said: "We occupy a sound, safe and consistent position, and the vote of the people this fall, if cast for our candidate, will strengthen our hands and enlarge the influence of the Democrats who take their seats in the House next December."

Plantation owners were rejoicing at needed rains, which had fallen almost daily at Kanai for two weeks prior to the steamer's leaving Honolulu.

The bark Lancefield, which left Tacoma June 20th with a cargo of wheat for Chili, sprang a leak when eighty days out and put for Honolulu, arriving in twenty-seven days, all hands being kept at the pumps day and night. The cargo was partly unloaded and repaired, which, it is estimated, will take two weeks and cost about $2,000, will be made, after which the vessel will leave Honolulu and go to Hove with the cargo instead of trying to dispose of it at a Chilean port.

Distress in Russia.

By Cable and Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Telegraph, describing the situation in Russia, arising from the failure of the crops, and detailing the harrowing incidents now prevailing says: "Not for centuries has such wide spread distress been recorded. The Telegraph's correspondent says the authorities delayed taking action to relieve the distress until it was too late. Additional scarcity of food, which has caused untold suffering and distress, was intensified by the enormous and unusually disastrous forest fire throughout the stricken district; in many districts the entire villages were destroyed. Added to this came the cattle plague. Thousands of head of cattle perished and many families thus lost their only means of subsistence. What little food it is possible for peasants to obtain was of the vilest description, but so sharp are the pangs of hunger they gladly eat stuff that at other times they would not touch. Heavy rains have fallen and the ground is so soaked with water that potatoes are rotting. The price of potatoes has already doubled and is still rising. The Peasants' Board sent representations to the Ministry, praying that taxes and arrears of taxes be wiped out.

THE ARID LANDS.

In reviewing the problem of the irrigation of the arid lands, the Salt Lake Tribune says: Sometimes we think our country is too large. On a dozen subjects the people of the East and West are drawing apart, and on one or two of these subjects the difference seems almost irreconcilable. The Springfield Republican, from its own standpoint, intends to be a fair newspaper; but even the Springfield Republican, when it comes to considering matters which relate entirely to the West, is often bigoted, sometimes intolerant.

Speaking of the arid land session, it virtually concedes that if the arid lands must be reclaimed, the best way to accomplish that result is by turning them over to the States and Territories immediately interested, but it does not want them reclaimed. It says: "The real objection lies against the irrigation of those lands at all, which only means an increase of product, of which our present supply, taken one year with another, is larger than there has been a market for at prices satisfactory to the farmer."

When a newspaper gets so narrowed as that, a great newspaper that has been a potential voice in the Nation for many years, one becomes discouraged. The arid lands as a rule, are in a region, the products of which cannot in the least affect the prices of products in the East. All the products of the arid lands are absorbed at home. They are sold to the miners and to the men whose business directly or indirectly depends on the working of the mines. The mines produce the money which is the life of business. Why a newspaper should desire to limit the extension of the narrow field of agriculture in this great basin is inexplicable.

THE STATE FAIR IS OVER AND THE TOWN HAS SETTLED BACK INTO EVERYDAY LIFE AGAIN. NO GATHERING CAN TAKE PLACE WITHOUT DOING GOOD OR EVIL, BUT THE STATE FAIR WAS FRAUGHT WITH MUCH GOOD; FOR IT GAVE THE FARMERS AN OPPORTUNITY OF EXCHANGING IDEAS; IT WAS A REST THAT THEY ALL NEEDED, AND EVERYBODY IS BETTER OFF, BETTER CONTENTED WITH HIS HOME AND SURROUNDINGS, AND IS IN EVERY WAY BETTER QUALIFIED FOR THE WORK HE HAS TO DO THAN HE WOULD HAVE BEEN IF HE HAD NOT ATTENDED THE SEVENTH ANNUAL FAIR.

Next year, however, we all should show more interest than we did this year or we may lose it. Carson is watching us with a selfish eye and stands ready to take advantage of every little thing. The public-spirited ladies of the county should wake up to the importance of the subject and see that every department is a great success next year. The Directors should make an extra effort, too, to make the display of Nevada products a pronounced success. More attention should be given that department and less to horse racing. There should be some attraction at the Fair grounds from 9 o'clock in the morning until evening. It is none too soon to begin to think of next year's Fair.

IT IS REPORTED ON WHAT SEEKS TO BE GOOD AUTHORITY, THAT A LARGE PLANT FOR THE MANUFACTURE OF TIN PLATE WILL SOON BE LOCATED IN SAN FRANCISCO BY A WEALTHY MANUFACTURER, A RESIDENT OF THAT CITY, WHO DOES NOT WISH TO HAVE HIS NAME APPEAR AT THIS TIME. IT IS EXPECTED THAT 1,000 HANDS WILL BE AT WORK THERE, MANUFACTURING TIN PLATE BEFORE THE END OF THE YEAR. THE MATERIAL WILL COME FROM AUSTRALIA, SAN BERNARDINO AND THE BLACK HILLS.

IT IS NOW REPORTED THAT FRANCE WILL WITHDRAW THE PROHIBITION OF AMERICAN PORK AS SOON AS THE CHAMBERS CONVENE NEXT MONTH. IT IS EXPECTED TO FOLLOW SUIT. OUR SYSTEM OF INSPECTION IS ENTITLED TO SOME WEIGHT IN GAINING THE WITHDRAWAL OF GERMAN PROHIBITION, BUT THE CHIEF DETERMINING CAUSE IS THE SPECIE OF AMERICAN REPRISALS MADE POSSIBLE UNDER REPUBLICAN COMMERCIAL POLICY.

FREAKISH FELINES.

THEY NURSE STRANGE ANIMALS AND PERFORM ON THE PIANO.

There are some queer traits among the animals in this state, says a Connecticut paper. A. E. Olmstead, a Modoc marketman, has a cat which gave birth to three kittens a week ago. Evidently thinking her family too small for her capacity as a nurse, she left her box and went over to a neighbor's rabbit warren, where she found a young bunny, and taking it carefully by the neck carried it to her home. She has fully adopted it, nursing it at the same time with her kittens, but she can't understand why the young animal doesn't play with her tail, as his foster sisters do.

Gelson Mitchell, also of Modoc, has a cat which is even more odd than Mr. Olmstead's. She has taken to her affections a young woodchuck, which Mr. Mitchell captured several weeks ago. She allows the woodchuck to nurse with the kittens, and the mother cat licks him and makes his toilet with the same impartiality she exhibits toward her own offspring.

Another cat story comes from Bridgeport. "Mike" is a brindle puss belonging to Miles B. Ferris. Twenty eggs packed in sawdust were standing in the window of Mr. Ferris' saloon when Mike took it into his head to go to sleep on them. Every attempt has been made to drive him away from the box and every inducement in the way of soft beds was offered to him, but he persists in lying on those eggs all day, only leaving them long enough to eat and drink. Next week the period of incubation will have expired. What Mike will do with his brood if he is successful is an interesting question. But perhaps he knows what he is about, and is hatching them for his own benefit.

Milton Mosher, of Shelton, heard sounds from his piano the other morning and knowing that no one was in the room he began to be a believer in spirits. On investigation he found his cat prancing up and down on the keyboard, seemingly delighted at the sounds produced. After that she was watched and whenever the piano is left open she will play upon it to the best of her ability.

DISCOMFITED DUDE.

HE KNEW THE GOVERNOR BUT WILTED IN HIS PRESENCE.

Gov. Northen was just leaving the capitol one day when a little dude spoke to him, says the Philadelphia Times.

"SAY, IS THE GOVERNOR IN HIS OFFICE?"

"NO, SIR."

"OH! I'LL BET HE IS. HE MAY HAVE SENT WORD TO YOU THAT HE WAS OUT, BUT HE'LL NOT TREAT ME THAT WAY."

"DO YOU KNOW HIM?"

"KNOW HIM? KNOW BILL NORTHEN? WELL, I SHOULD SMILE. WE ARE VERY INTIMATE. I SPENT A MONTH WITH HIM LAST SUMMER—RUN HIS CAMPAIGN FOR HIM, AND NOW HE WANTS TO SEE ME ABOUT AN IMPORTANT MATTER."

"I THINK YOU ARE MISTAKEN, SIR."

THE SPEAKER'S COLD STARE AND POSITIVE TONE NETTELLED THE DUDE.

"MAY I ASK YOUR NAME?" HE ASKED, HAUGHTILY.

"NORTHEN IS MY NAME."

"OH—AH—RELATED TO THE GOVERNOR, SIR?"

"I AND THE GOVERNOR, SIR."

"THE DICKENS!" RETORDED THE LITTLE DUDE. AND WITH THAT HE MADE A BREAK THROUGH THE VAULTED DOOR, LEAVING THE GOVERNOR LOOKING AFTER HIM WITH AN AMUSED SMILE ON HIS FACE.

THE GHOST DANCE IS ONE OF THE REMINISCENCES OF DAYS GONE BY. IT WAS INTRODUCED ON THE WESTERN COAST OF AFRICA, BY THE INHABITANTS OF LOONGB, THE CAPITAL OF BULUM. THIS RELIGIOUS CEREMONY WAS PERFORMED ON THE PREMISES OF THE CHIEF OF THE TRIBE.

THE SPECTATORS FORMED A CIRCLE AROUND THE DEVIL, TO WHOM HEAD WAS FASTENED THAT OF AN ALLIGATOR. HIS BODY WAS WOUND WITH LONG REED-GRASS. ARRANGED IN THIS FASHION HE JUMPED ABOUT IN THE MOST GROTESQUE MANNER.

BUT WHEN HE TUMBLED OR FELL IN HIS GYRATIONS IT WAS CONSIDERED AN EVIL SIGN, PROGNOSTICATING SURE DEATH. THE DEVIL DANCED TO THE DISMAL TUNE OF DRUMS, BEATING THE TIME WITH HIS FOOT. THE WOMEN SUNG A PAINFUL WAIL, TO WHICH THEY CLAPPED THEIR HANDS. AT THE BEGINNING OF THE CEREMONY THE ASSEMBLAGE WAS QUIET AND ORDERLY, BUT THEY SOON GREW WILD WITH FANATICISM.

A LARGE BONFIRE WAS STARTED, WHICH THREW A FANTASTIC GLARE OVER THE GHASTLY SCENE, AND THE IMPRESSION MADE UPON A FOREIGN VISITOR BY THIS GROTESQUE SPECTACLE WAS BY NO MEANS A PLEASANT ONE.

MISCELLANEOUS.

BAD BLOOD.

Impure or vitiated blood is nine times out of ten caused by some form of constipation or indigestion that clogs up the system, when the blood naturally becomes impregnated with the effects master. The old sarsaparilla attempt to reach this condition by attacking the blood with the drastic mineral "potash." Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is modern. It goes to the seat of the trouble. It arouses the liver, kidneys and bowels and invigorates the circulation, and the impurities are quickly carried off through the natural channels.

Charles Lee, at Beamish's Third and Market Sts., S. F., writes: "I took it for vitiated blood and while on the first bottle became convinced of its merits, for I could feel it was working a change. It cleaned, purified and braced me up generally, and everything is now working full and regular."

Gelson Mitchell, also of Modoc, has a cat which is even more odd than Mr. Olmstead's. She has taken to her affections a young woodchuck, which Mr. Mitchell captured several weeks ago. THE MACKAYS.

An Interesting Communication From Mrs. Mary Doten.

A correspondent of the Stockton Republican has the following to print about one of Nevada's millionaires: "Had any one told Mrs. John Mackay twenty years ago, while living in her rude Nevada home, that her then little tot of a one-year-old boy, would, on his twenty-first birthday, proudly do the honors of host and escort to the table of the daughter of the Prince of Wales—that lovely young Princess—the pride and joy of the English throne, she would not, in all probability, have believed them. Yet such is indeed the fact, according to the latest Court Journal. The twenty-first birthday of John Mackay Jr., was celebrated with unusual splendor, and the young English Princess was of course given the seat of honor at the table."

In most human breasts Mother Nature has implanted a vein of envy, large or small, as the case may be, and few of us can bear patiently to see those whom we have known and considered on an equal footing with ourselves become especially prosperous, and, rising on fortune's wings, reach her loftiest heights, leaving us down in the valley of common things, hampered and held there by poverty it may be.

In other countries are to be observed such sudden and complete changes from comparative poverty to affluence, and, in some cases, to unlimited wealth, as in the United States, nor does any other country show so often and so plainly the reverse side of the picture. Fortunes swept away in a single day, wrecking homes and lives, bringing misery, beggary, ruin and death to many a proud soul. The mines of the Comstock have, in the past, borne their full share in making and unmaking fortunes, but many, who once counted their income drawn from this source by the thousands, are now glad to earn an honest living by the sweat of their brow; a few who owe their prosperity and consequent rise in the world to the famous lode still continue to enjoy the fruits of the same. Among these latter may be classed the Mackays, Fairs, Requias and some few others, they forming the exception, however, not the rule. Were one disposed to point a moral and adorn a tale full and rich materials might be drawn from the lives of those just mentioned.

"Death loves a shining mark," so do envy and detraction and there have been plenty who were ready to point their darts especially at Mrs. Mackay. She has been represented as having followed a variety of occupations at different times, the humble one of washerwoman not being omitted, that when left a widow in Virginia City with a young child, now the Princess di Colonna, to support, she for a time earned a dignified and honest living by teaching languages, French and Spanish, or Italian, to a number of private pupils. This fact shows her to have been a woman of education and of more or less culture. She remained a widow for a short time only, becoming Mrs. John Mackay while still quite young and at a time when "honest John first began to see the visions of unbounded wealth, in which every minor indulgence, taking the shape of reality.

Twenty-one years ago the Mackays were living in Virginia City well up on the side of Mt. Davidson, on A street, I think, in a home which, while perhaps not the equal of the residence since built on South B street, the Nob Hill, of that city, was certainly anything but a "rude home," though its surroundings might have been considered rough and wild. The house was elegantly furnished for a mining town, and would at any time compare well with those of older and more pretentious localities, filled as it was with articles of luxury and comfort from the grand piano even to the cradle in which the infant John reposed.

dressing; cakes and fruits in a great variety and profusion; coffee, sparkling champagne and other wines; everything in short on the grand scale in which the early comstockers delighted to do things. In one corner of the parlor stood a little table bearing a huge punch bowl, which was refilled as often as, or before, it was empty. Punch concocted by General Van Bokkelen, who would yield the palm to none in the making of this seductive beverage.

One dear old lady, almost the only one present who could claim to be a strict teetotaler and who carried her principles nearly to the verge of rudeness, was besieged by the un-loving dances there present to drink glass after glass of that most "delicious lemonade," as they termed it, until she became unusually jolly, and in turn recommended the "lemonade" to all who were present, and her daughter, seeing how matters were going, interfered to stop their sport.

In an upper room the young John slept sweetly till aroused by the noise below, when he opened his little mouth, lifted up his voice and squaled just like any other baby. Had the poor child known that he was destined on his 21st birthday to act as host and escort a princess of the royal house of England, no doubt he would have behaved in a more dignified manner, but from him as from all other creatures, "Heaven bid the book of fate."

There too, was the maiden then scarcely in her teens, Mrs. Mackay's sister, Ada Hungerford, afterwards to become the Countess Telfer, and with them was the little baby girl four or five years old, who now rejoices in the title of Princess.

To many, the most attractive person present was Mrs. Hungerford, the mother of Mrs. Mackay and the future Countess. Then just entering middle age, she bore herself with the grace and dignity of a "grand dame" of the French country school, seeming to have generations of good breeding and culture behind her.

To her mother, Mrs. Mackay not only owes her own charm of manner, and from her she doubtless inherited her love of society and the intense ambition to shine in its highest circles that has so strongly distinguished her since she left Comstock home.
